Dear Resident of Slave Lake and surrounding communities

We at Kensington Master Builders can only imagine the pain and distress of the recent loss of your home. We understand your need to re-settle as quickly as possible and we are ready to assist in that process.

Kensington Master Builders is a professional, certified home builder with the creativity and skill to build your home. We are a low-volume builder focused first on building relationships with our clients and second on building beautifully crafted, energy-efficient homes. With integrity, understanding, and over 20 years of experience, we build homes that meet or exceed government standards for R-2000, EnergyStar, and energy-efficient Built Green homes. Kensington has the capability craftsmanship and expertise to guide you on your rebuilding journey.

Your Kensington experts create plans, design and decorate interiors, and provide landscaping that complements your fine, new home, which is constructed by a dedicated team of clean, courteous, and professional tradesmen. At Kensington, we are completely in tune with every new and innovative technological development in construction materials and methods. That being said, we don't follow the trends simply because it's fashionable. We maintain consistency in construction quality and we strive to improve productivity and efficiency but we will never cut corners.

As experienced home builders, we bring empathy and confidence to the construction process, ensuring it is pleasant and as stress-free as possible to you. In the end, you'll have a beautiful home that is perfectly matched to your family.

Speak to a Kensington representative on June 25th at the Building Fair being held at Northern Lakes College or call 1-855-449-3137 to arrange an appointment.

Sincerely,
